Anthropology graduate students who will or have done a podium or poster presentation at a conference (as sole or first author) can apply to the Graduate Conference Travel & Research Support Fund ($250). Students can apply annually, although priority will be given to those who have not been funded previously. Students can also apply for support for equipment (e.g. voice recorder), software (e.g. NVivo license) or anything else they need to support their research.

There will be two application deadlines per year, on December 31 and March 31.
