

CHOOSING OUR WORDS WISELY

Exploring the dynamic relationship between anthropological research and words

March 11th 2023 | Hybrid format
Online and Western University SSC 2257

Keynote Speaker

Aja Lans
She/her

Aja Lans is a postdoctoral researcher at Harvard University as part of the Inequality in America Initiative. She completed her PhD in anthropology and cultural heritage preservation at Syracuse University. Her research integrates Black feminist and critical race theory into bioarchaeological investigations. Also of interest are the ethics of museum collections, the objectification of human remains, and the history of race.

@WesternUWAGS uwoags@gmail.com