

DR. PHOEBE STUBBLEFIELD

SHE / HER

BIOLOGICAL ANTHROPOLOGIST AND DIVERSITY ADVOCATE

Stubblefield has served a prominent role in research of the Tulsa Race Massacre. In leading the investigations for physical evidence of the massacre, her work is uncovering details of racial history and violence which were previously buried. Stubblefield has also been an active advocate for increased diversity within the field, acting as mentor and facilitator to individuals from underrepresented groups as they enter the field.
